Naked Soul

A'rain G

Naked Soul A'rain G
A diary of poetry, over time, collected from pre-adolescent to womanhood. Feeling split into two since birth, raised in religion and growing up in public education. Shunned for wearing colors, not dressing the same as others in religion, not looking the same as others, and still learning just as much and more at times. Guided by free speech and feeling empowered by oncoming womanhood, yet being shamed for too much womanly growth. Finding a place in creativity and self expression through dance and music and acting, and still being the loner as the only girl in a family of four, with an absent father. Going through struggles of womanhood alone, and later losing eldest brother. Twisted situations left feeling confused. Still finding strength, perseverance, faith, and hope when there is no one else to turn to, to still believe in oneself, and stay motivated against any road blocks in the way.
