Interior Lighting for Designers, 3rd Edition Gary Gordon, James L. Nuckolls
This study describes all aspects of architectural lighting design practice and techniques. The authors explain how to provide light for architecture by describing in clear and simple terms the process of lighting design, which can be applied to any space with lighting needs. All elements of lighting are described, including perception, brightness and use of daylight, with definitions of terminology used. Numerous illustrations are included to highlight the text.
