The Neighbours of the European Union's Neighbours: Diplomatic and Geopolitical Dimensions beyond the European Neighbourhood Policy Sieglinde Gstöhl, Erwan Lannon
Should the European Neighbourhood Policy stop at the borders of the European Unionâ€™s immediate neighbouring countries? This book is the first full length study of the â€˜neighbours of the EUâ€™s neighboursâ€™, a concept originally introduced by the European Commission with reference to Saharan Africa, the Middle East and Central Asia. These regions in the EUâ€™s broader neighbourhood are often perceived as an â€˜arc of crisisâ€™ from which manifold challenges emanate for Europe. This timely book takes stock of the state of the EUâ€™s cooperation with the neighbours of its neighbours and explores how the concept might help promote security, stability and prosperity beyond the countries which are formally part of the European Neighbourhood Policy. How can the EU create bridges between these regions? What instruments does the EU have at its disposal and how can it link them in order to respond to the challenges and overcome the current fragmentation? One of the conclusions is the suggestion to consider a pragmatic â€˜EU Strategy for the Neighbours of its Neighboursâ€™ which addresses the needs of the broader EU neighbourhood in a more systematic and consistent manner and helps transform in the long run the â€˜arc of crisisâ€™ into another â€˜ring of friendsâ€™.
